html As an alternative solution you can try to use a different account, or switch to a different browser. You can also contact us with this email: support@tuxera.com After about one hour of playing, I decided to call it quits on this game. My Clevo laptop is just not powerful enough to run it on ultra. Even at normal, this game will not play smoothly, especially when it comes to scrolling. I also tried the game in the PS3 emulator, which is about 30% the speed of native play, but the graphics are still a little rough. I would suggest that you either try to upgrade your PC, or try the game on a different operating system like Windows XP or Windows 7. This game is no longer supported, and there is a new version coming out in August 2013. I highly doubt you will be able to play it on your current machine. Tuxera, your software has been great for me, so I thank you for providing a wonderful product. Tuxera Software Development Team 1. Reinstall the original video driver on Windows 2.
