While many are still digesting the stunning news that the Vikings have signed free agent LB Brian Cushing, NFL Hall of Famer Michael Irvin is saying the Birds could be missing out on their target. In an interview on SportsRadio 94WIP, the first of six SportsRadio 94WIP shows being produced by CBS Sports Radio in New York, Irvin said he's "pretty confident" that the Vikings would be able to beat the Bears for his former teammate, and that he believes the New Orleans Saints would also be interested in the player. "I think the Vikings will be the team to beat," Irvin said. "I'm pretty confident they'll get him. And the Saints as well. I'm sure that Mike [Pantano] will be interested. They're both looking to make a run." The Saints have done well this offseason, reportedly bringing in linebackers Parys Haralson and Dannell Ellerbe, while adding TE Jimmy Graham. Wednesday, June 22, 2012 Door Knobs I made a fabric door knob for a door in my son's room. This is an old door that was lying around in the basement. My son has been playing in the basement a lot over the past several years and the door was lying on the floor. I haven't had time to do anything with it yet but I'm thinking that I might put a hanging basket of plastic plants on the door. I hope that he likes it. I like it! but i think I will put a plant on it too. Our old doors are great for coats and coats and coats. I have an old door too but it is missing a knob. I think I will stick to fabric for a while. The fabric looks nice on the wall. I like it. Well, I think that it looks nice, and I like the color. Also, I'd never seen a door knob made of fabric before, and I think it's lovely. However, I think that I might use fabric for the day to day handles on the doors of my own, as I like the feel of a soft handle, but I never use things such as this door knob, except for special occasions. I also think that I might use a silver door knob for that same f988f36e3a
